MOTHER'S MURDER, GETS LIFE

By Associated Press.
IDABEL, Okla., May 10.—John Pope, confessed slayer of his estranged wife, her father and mother and two children, and Aaron Harvey, his confessed accomplice, were sentenced to death in district court here today. Pope's son, Jack, who admitted accompanying his father and Harvey to the scene of the killing, was sentenced for life in the penitentiary. The prisoners were brought here from Paris, Texas, where they have been held secretly since the preliminary hearing to prevent mob violence. Within an hour the sentence was passed and the slayers were en route to McAlester. After the sentence the man said they slew the victims in order to procure $2000 life insurance. Mrs. Pope carried. The five were slain April 26 as they slept at the home of T. H. Hansell, Mrs. Pope's father.

HEAVY FROST LAST NIGHT
CLIMAX RECENT COLD WAVE

Coming as a climax to the recent cold wave a heavy frost was on the ground in some parts of Middlesboro early this morning. The minimum temperature last night was 31, according to B. H. Perkins, local weather observer. Some local garden owners say that the frost has done much damage to the young plants such as cucumbers, tomatoes and beans. Indications are that the temperature will rise and be back to normal within a few days.

SMALL FIRE BREAKS OUT
IN BOONEWAY LAST NIGHT

A spark generated by the contact of two passing sash weights was the origin of the fire at the Booneway Inn last night, according to the proprietor. The fire broke out at the window of the fourth floor room occupied by Miss Lela Harkelton and Miss Anna Lee Pears, teachers at the Central school. The damage will probably not exceed twenty-five dollars.

No one seems to have been in the room at the time the fire started. One of the occupants had raised the window a short time before and had left the room. On returning, she found the room filled with smoke. Joe Alderson noticed the fire about this time. The blaze had been practically extinguished by the hotel chemical equipment when the fire engine arrived.

LOCAL "SUCKERS" FIND OUT ONE NEVER GETS
SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

All that glitters is not gold and street vendors are not in business altogether for their health. These facts have been deduced by a few dozen gentlemen of rustic mien who, from their actions yesterday afternoon, might aptly be termed "suckers."

He was a smooth talker, this vendor, and apparently he was the soul of generosity. He sold several rings and other trinkets to men who crowded around his buggy, then refunded the purchase price and allowed them to keep the articles. Thinking they would get back their money and be allowed to keep the goods also nearly every one in the crowd bought something. One man invested ten dollars in razors, rings and stick pins.

INCREASED SALE MOTOR
TRUCKS SHOW PROSPERITY

Indications are that business in this state is better than for many years, according to Cecil B. Warner, district representative of Graham Bros., who was a visitor at the F. P. Seales company today. Increase in the sales of motor trucks always denotes prosperity, he said.

CIRCUS RATHER NEAGRE
BUT IS WELL ATTENDED

In spite of the cold weather the Cooper Bros. circus was fairly well attended last night, the "big tent" being almost entirely filled. Acrobatic and trapeze acts formed the principal part of the entertainment. The menagerie of the circus consisted of one elephant, a few ponies, dogs, goats and a monkey. Two clowns furnished the humor.

MRS. ROBERTSON LITTLE HURT
WHEN CAR GOES OVER BANK

Mrs. L. L. Robertson narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday when she lost control of her Nash coupe, just as she was coming out of her driveway on Edgewood Road, and it plunged down the thirty foot embankment toward the new high school building. The car was stopped from going clear down by two trees about half way down the embankment. Mrs. Robertson's injuries consisted of only a few bruises. The car was somewhat battered up.

Mrs. Robertson was coming out of the driveway when she saw another car coming up Edgewood. She waited until it passed, not seeing another car coming rapidly behind it. After the first car passed Mrs. Robertson drove into the street necessarily swinging over to the far side of the street because of the narrowness there. Then she saw the other car and in attempting to get out of the way she lost control of her car. It jumped the side walk and started down the embankment, cutting off a small tree entirely, tearing away the side of a construction house near the school building and coming to a halt when it struck two large trees.

Traces that several "little boys" came into existence in East End last night were left on the stone porch of H. R. Giles. A half-gallon glass jar, empty, was found on the porch this morning and a quantity of empty Coca-Cola bottles were missing. The creator of the "little boys" did not even leave a drink in the jar to pay for the use of the porch.

MEXIA, Tex., May 10.—Sixteen persons were killed in an oil well fire, according to information received at headquarters of the J. K. Hughes development company here today.

By Associated Press.

CORSICANA, Tex., May 10.—Thirteen are known dead and possibly two more are believed today to be the toll of the fire at the J. K. Hughes development company oil well near here late yesterday. The check of bodies today showed seven in the morgue and six known to have been at the well are missing. Four charred skeletons were seen near the well as it continued to burn today. It is estimated that it will require two days to extinguish the fire.

The oil well which came in unexpectedly and which the men killed were making efforts to control, is on the last bank of Chambers creek, hidden from view by a dense growth of green timber. Thoroughly soaked with oil for 8 hours, the timber and debris was ready fuel for the fire.

Soon after the explosion, believed to have been caused by a spark made when a pebble struck a new casing head, the site of the well was a mass of smoking embers and blackened ground. Only the flames from the spouting oil and gas continued.

Prohibition Officers Assume Decision

Scope of Ruling

MAY THROW OPEN DOOR FOR SMUGGLING AND BOOTLEGGING

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—On the assumption that the decision of Federal Judge Knox in New York declaring void the limitation imposed on physicians' prescriptions of liquor will not become effective until after review by the Supreme court, prohibition headquarters announced today that no change in the present regulations relating to permits in the New York district will be put into effect until the highest court has acted. Meanwhile treasury officials are in a quandary as to the scope of the decision. They indicate its ramifications may extend to liquor on ships and throw open the door for smugglers and make doubly difficult prohibition enforcement.

Galgano Duo Tonight, Last Number on Program, Particularly Good
Artists

The presentation of "The Mikado" by the Tooley Comic Opera company last night was highly enjoyed by those who saw it. KU KLUX KLAN IN KENTUCKY

News that the Ku Klux Klan has planted its flag in this state comes as a surprise. Indeed we are not sure that the cross was not the work of some practical joker who sought to create a sensation by making the town believe that the hooded band had located there.

Do we need a Klan in this state? If we are menable of running our government, punishing crime, keeping a close check on the acts of public officials and, in general attending to our own business, then we need such an organization if it can do all these things for us.

But by offering in excuse for the existence of such an organization we admit that our citizens are weaklings, incapable of making laws and seeing that they are respected, that the officials, public men and citizens have become so degraded that fear, snarl, dejection, terror that this land is able to make, can alone make them do their duty. We are unwilling to admit these things, we know they are not true, hence we are led to the logical conclusion that such a secret organization is unnecessary.

If there are inequalities in the state or municipal government in the enforcement of law or if there are any evils which the Klan purports to remedy, then any club or body of citizens can conduct an investigation, has been done in other places. If a cause is a worthy one there is all the more reason that remedial action should take place in broad daylight and by men who are brave enough to go unmasked.

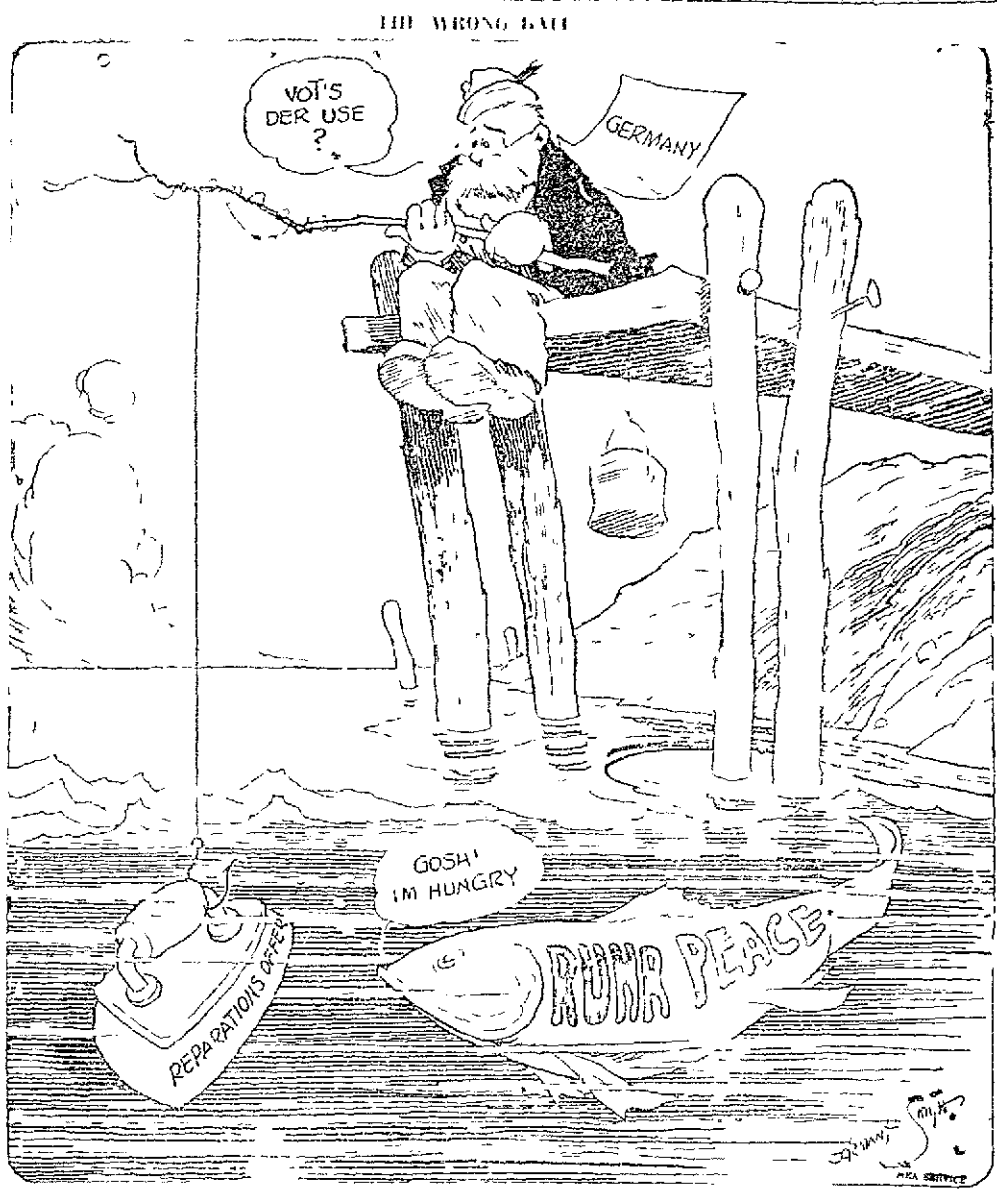

Many honest and law-abiding citizens have become members of the Klan. Be it said to their credit however that some of them have come out of the order, disclaimed any allegiance and admitted that it was not what they had sought.

Members of the organization say that it is founded on principles of patriotism and justice. This is a very fine patriotic method, but based on fear, secrecy and threats, the element of cowardice is apparent in all their activities.

TRI STATE ARK

Journalists observe with interest the bit of Dr. Robert Work, secretary of the Interior to Middlesboro, where he is the Middlesboro-Knoxville Club at the Cumberland Gap region should set aside as a national park. Although Dr. Work did not make his journey from Washington to this park he did visit Middlesboro in Lincoln Memorial University. The Gap is a guest of the Knoxville Club which has been for some time planning the creation of a first state national park that would include the huckle and the old mining cave and from the Gap. The effort should be abandoned. Every member of the huckle delegation in Congress should be among the advocates of the proposed work.

The elevation of the river level towns in the Kentucky mountains is not in Middlesboro is only about 1200 feet. A mining town owned by United States Coal & Coke Co. is 2,000 feet above sea level with

In the event of a disaster, the first thing to do is to get out of the building. If you are in a building which is on fire, do not try to fight the fire. Get out as quickly as you can. Do not stop to get your belongings. Do not try to help others. Get out first.

Within sight of Middlesboro there are hills which would be excellent sites for a new city. But they are not present. A rich and fertile land, with a good climate, and a good location. The climate is good. The location is good. The land is good. The climate is good. The location is good. The land is good.

The Spring Wind whispered Play with me. Come on and run away with me. I know where all the merry places are. Where silver lakes are glimmering. Or waterfalls are shimmering. Away from all the cares and clash and jar. The Spring Sun says: There's bloom in me. A quiet healthy calm in me. To soothe your nerves of all their hurt and fret. I'll put a lovely tin on you. Come on and play—I plan on you. There's lots of gay adventures to be met.

But Duty said: No wandering! You should be grandly pondering. The problems of the Spring and Summer. Trade. Fire's earnest in its quality. You ought to shun frivolity. Which route do you suppose it obeyed?

Tom Sims Says
I was very foolish at first in giving my opinion on the subject of the Ku Klux Klan. I was very foolish at first in giving my opinion on the subject of the Ku Klux Klan. I was very foolish at first in giving my opinion on the subject of the Ku Klux Klan.

Let's hope every child, at least such prices as are not too high.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES COLE TO HIS MOTHER, MRS. JOSEPH HAMILTON

I expect you find me a voluminous correspondence mother dear. But I am in such a tangle and to whom should I deliver it so it got to her mother at such a time.

Of course you know that both Jack and I had always agreed we would have to have a piano. Jack said one of the things he fell in love with was my music. So that first day when I spent the thousand dollars when I was passing the best music store in town I thought I would stop in and just look around.

I saw the loveliest baby grand piano you ever saw. It was only two thousand dollars. I just couldn't resist it. The man said that I needn't pay but 10 per cent down and a hundred dollars a month until it was paid for.

I thought however it was much more business-like to pay for it all at once and get it over with—he gave me 5 per cent off for cash. Besides one of the first things you told me was not to go into debt.

I don't think I ever was so happy in my life as I was when I got home that night but when I sat down to balance up my check book and found that I had spent three thousand dollars and hardly had anything left for the apartment I was just sick.

To top the climax I was late for dinner and Jack had been so busy that he had not had any luncheon. He was like a raging lion when I arrived.

Mother dear I know now why you are always so particular to have dad's mugs in time.

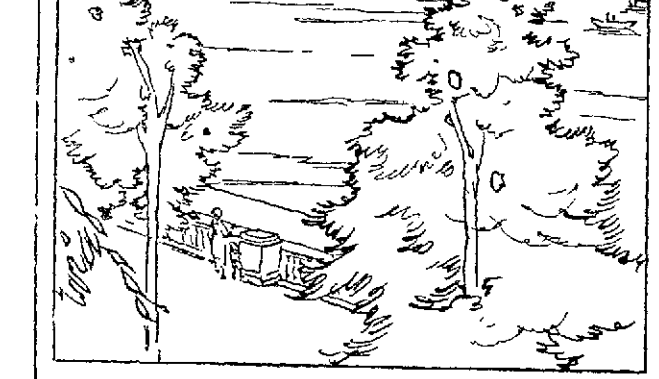

I told Jack that I had been transacting my business just as he had his. But he granted I could take four thousand dollars and buy enough things to furnish this hotel.

I set up and hit the table for I knew if I started I would burst into tears.

Jack was lovely when he came back. (The animal had been fed and so was good natured.)

He told me he knew he was a silky bunny and I told him I was a silky little thing who had never paid much attention to time as before I had never had to consider that some one was waiting mugs for me.

KIWANIS NOTES

W. C. STAIR LADIES' NIGHT CHAIRMAN

L. B. Herrington of Louisville to Be Chief Speaker Tonight—Ten Prizes to Be Given

W. C. Stair will be chairman of the Kiwanis Ladies' Night to be held tonight at the Hotel Cumberland. This is the first ladies' night for several months, and as it has been postponed a time or so, every one is particularly anxious for the occasion to come. L. B. Herrington of Louisville will be principal speaker at the meeting.

Ten ladies' prizes will be given by the following: Judge J. F. Bosworth, John Burnett, W. E. Frazer, F. L. Lee, P. M. Parsons, Carlyle Shelburne, G. H. Talbott, W. V. Tennent, Dr. J. R. Tinsley and F. R. Whalin.

EIGHT PERSONS FORM DELEGATION TO KIWANIS CONVENTION

Eight local persons are signed up to go to the International Kiwanis Club convention in Atlanta to be held May 28, 29 and 30. Several others contemplate making the trip but these eight will probably make up the Middlesboro delegation. They are Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Liebig, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Smyth, and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Zimmerman. The official delegates are T. R. Hill and C. G. Smyth.

Good News For Kiwanians

That Roe Fulkerson has accepted a contract for three more years as editor of the Kiwanis Magazine is good news Kiwanians. Mr. Fulkerson, who has served admirably in that position for the past three years, will be at the Atlanta Kiwanis convention and he is expected to be in Middlesboro for the district convention in August.

Credentials for Delegates

Let every club make certain that the official blanks sent for the certifying of delegates and alternates have been mailed to the Atlanta Convention Office, Room E, Ansley Hotel, so the delegates and alternates will experience no difficulty in officially listing their names with the Credentials Committee and securing their delegates' pin, which gives them their status as delegates. If changes have occurred in either delegates or alternates, please see that proper certification is forwarded to the Atlanta Convention Office, or is brought by the newly chosen representatives. Do not burden the Credentials Committee by asking them for consideration without having certification of your right as a delegate or alternate, in accordance with official action of your club.

COMMUNITY CHEST COMMITTEE ACTIVE

Kiwanis Club Members Plan Meeting of Representatives of Every Organization in Town

The Kiwanis Club appointed to take charge of the Community Chest Campaign are already hard at work. At a preliminary meeting Tuesday in Major E. S. Helburn's office, the committee, composed of Major Helburn, chairman, H. H. Overton and P. M. Parsons, decided to call a meeting of representatives of all organizations in town for next Tuesday afternoon. The invitation sent out follows:

"On Tuesday, May 15, at 2 p. m., there will be a meeting in the office of Major E. S. Helburn for the purpose of organizing the entire city for the community chest campaign.

"You are requested to be present or to appoint some member of your organization to be present and to act on this committee, as this is a community proposition and every individual and organization in the city should be interested.

"Invitations are being sent to every church, fraternal and civic organization on that committee."

The Kiwanis spirit certainly is indomitable. It is marvelous and inspiring to note the goals set by many clubs and the persistent, irresistible manner in which they carry through to accomplishment.

100 Per Cent by "Stretcher"

The Erwin, Tennessee, club is in the Attendance Contest to win. Up to April 1 they had maintained a 100 per cent record, when to their dismay one member was taken ill. But what was that to this achieving club! In order to continue their 100 per cent record they secured a stretcher and bore the ill member to the luncheon. The Kiwanis spirit surely wins!

Material for Atlanta Exhibit

A bigger and better Kiwanis Exhibit than even that at Toronto, is being planned for Atlanta. Special requests have been sent out to clubs and districts that they forward to International Headquarters samples of various printed matter, programs, notices, bulletins, etc., from which selections may be made. This will greatly assist our Department of Publicity and Education in arranging this exhibit. Thousands of commendations were expressed in regard to the Toronto Exhibit. Those who will give time to carefully look over the Atlanta exhibit will be more than repaid. Please bear in mind two things—send material to help us in arranging the exhibit, then be sure to visit the exhibit in Atlanta.

The item of news and society in your neighborhood are interesting to other readers of our paper. Why not phone them in? Call 62.

May
"April's dead, but I am here!"
May thus whispers in my ear.
"Sister April's gone, but I
To allay your grief will try!"
May is here, the world unfolding in a glorious cloak of green;
May is here; the burgeoned orchards lend their splendor to the scene.
May is here—not merely May-time in the realm of leaf and tree—
She is here, with double sweetness, in the heart of you and me!

May is here—resume those problems that so filled you with despair
When the pasture brooks were prisoners and the snow was in the air.
You will smile when you remember that the things so easy now
Once had brought the signs of trouble to your corrugated brow?
'Tis herself, the bettered calendar recording month and day Cannot hint at half the meaning of "the merry month of May."
May is more than warmth returning to this world we love so well—
She is something deeper, finer than astronomers can tell.
May is here—my soul I should know in though in dungeon dark I dwell Here as something more than knowledge—an emotion to be felt.
God's great heart beat extra kindly for the human race one day;
Yielding to that tender impulse He decreed the month of May!
"April's dead—shed not a tear."
Whispers May, "for I am here.
What though April could not stay,
Gaze on me—and I not May?"

TODAY'S RECIPES

STRAWBERRY CREAM PUFFS

In a sauce pan place one cup of water and one-half cup of butter, put over the fire and bring to the boiling point. Then add one cup of flour all at once and cook, stirring constantly until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan. Remove from fire, add four unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating well before the addition of each egg.
Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered sheet and bake 40 minutes in an oven quite hot at first, with the heat reduced the last 20 minutes.

Beat one pint of cream until stiff,
add one-fourth cup of powdered sugar and one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Roll and unroll one box of strawberries, sweetening to taste.

When the cream puffs are cool, split and fill with cream and strawberries mixed. Sprinkle tops with powdered sugar.

VEAL BIRDS

This is an old recipe, but a good one,
and offers a change.

Cut two very thin slices from a leg of veal into pieces four inches long and three inches wide. Put bones and fat on to cook with a cup or two of water.
Run one cup of lean trimmings and fat sift pork through a meat chopper. Add one-half cup of soft bread crumbs, two tablespoons of melted butter, one-half teaspoon paprika, one-eighth teaspoon of salt, one-eighth teaspoon thyme, one-fourth teaspoon celery salt, one teaspoon lemon juice, a few drops of onion juice and one egg slightly beaten.

Spread this mixture on the pieces of veal, roll and fasten with toothpicks. Season each roll with salt and pepper, roll in flour and saute in butter until a golden brown. Place them in a stew pan, add one cup of thin cream and one cup of stock. Cover closely and cook very slowly for 30

PICKING DERBY WINNER HARD JOB; EXPERTS LOOK FOR OUTSIDER TO WIN

Who will win the Kentucky Derby? Leading turf experts are inclined to the belief that it will be some outsider, little favored in the betting.

During a recent visit to New York I went out to several of the tracks and looked over some of the entries regarded in high favor, among them being Messenger, Goshawk, Cherry Pie, Better Luck and Bud Lerner.

Last year at this time the Derby was regarded as a cinch for Morvich. Unbeaten as a two-year-old, Morvich loomed up as one best bet and so proved. He won easily.

The whirling of the Kentucky Derby, however, was the only worth-while race that Morvich ran during the entire year. He was beaten in every other start, proving that he either gone stale or been over-rated.

No Horse Stands Out
It's different this year. No one horse stands out as did Morvich of 1922. Picking the winner is more than a tough proposition. That is why so many of the leading turf experts figure some outsider is liable to go over, entirely upsetting the dope.

The 1923 Kentucky Derby, which will be decided at Churchill Downs on May 19, promises to be one of the greatest races in the history of this classic of the turf.

The original nominations totaled 145 representing the very cream of the three-year-old thoroughbreds. Every stable of prominence in the country is represented in the list of nominations.

For some time all the entrants have been undergoing intensive training, it being necessary to hurry the horses a bit in order to have them ready for so early a date and such a big event.

Big Field Will Start
On the form that is being shown up to date, about one-half of the nominations have shown enough stuff to make it seem as if they had a chance. There are about 70 probable starters yet in the running.

It is possible that so many horses will start that it will be necessary to run the classic in two divisions. Horsemen, however, are hopeful that such will not be the case, such races never being satisfactory, always leaving in doubt the matter of supremacy.

Harry Payne Whitney's Enchantment is certain to go to the post carrying plenty of money on its chances. In the winter books Enchantment ruled favorite most of the way. However, the recent fine showing of Willis Sharp Kilmer's Sally's Alley has won for the filly a host of admirers. At present Sally's Alley shares with Enchantment the choice of favorite.

Enchantment had a big year as a two-year-old. Enchantment has the speed but is inclined to be erratic. On several occasions last year the handsome son of Chic and Enchantment refused to leave the barrier. The veteran Jimmy Rowe, who is training Enchantment, feels that his charge has quieted down as a three-year-old and will be returned the undisputed champion.

Sally's Alley has already proved that she is in great form. There are many experts who believe the sturdy filly will come through. Only one other filly, Regret, has ever won the Derby.

Messenger, August Belmont's entry, is certain to receive much consideration. Last year Messenger got away to a fine start, looked set for a big season, only to have something go wrong, making it necessary for him to be out for the rest of the year. Messenger is a beautiful horse to look at, as well bred as Man o' War, and should make a great race of it.

Wilderness Going Great
The fine showing of Richard T. Wilson's Wilderness in his last two starts makes him loom up as a dangerous contender. In picking the probable winner of the Derby, Wilderness is entitled to much consideration.

Other three-year-olds certain to have a good following are Sandy McNaughton's Little Cdr., Harry Sinclair's Zev and Bud Lerner, J. S. Gosden's Martingale and Dhamlin, Bud Fisher's Cartoonish, E. R. Bradley's Blossom Time, Bright Tomorrow and Boys Believe Me. Montford Jones' Qui Qui, Benjamin Block's Better Luck and many others too numerous to mention.

The Kentucky Derby this year will be worth more than $60,000 and a gold cup worth $7,000 in addition to the prestige that goes to the stable that wins the classic of the turf.

GOOD SOAP FOR TWO CENTS A POUND

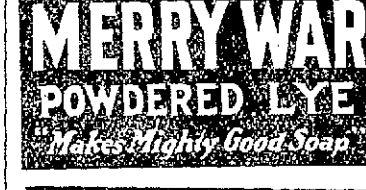

Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes.

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are making their own soap. If you have never tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, hard soap or floating soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together with a can of Merry War Lye, the safe and sure soapmaker.

In the old days when soap was made by the boiling process it took nearly all day to make a kettle of soap. Now it is hardly any work at all—requires no boiling—takes less than 30 minutes. Saves you money and gives you all the pure, clean soap you need for kitchen, laundry and all household purposes.

You will find simple directions for soap-making on the label of every can of Merry War Lye.

Merry War Powdered Lye comes in a convenient can with revolving sifting top that cannot come off, cannot get lost, refills tightly and preserves contents. It is economical to buy and easy to use.

Now, Here's a Story
I Always Like to Tell

To Those Who Haven't Been Told:

Years ago I tried to sell a man some Accident Insurance—BUT DIDN'T.

He said he didn't expect to be hurt and would take a chance—HE DID.

About a year ago he said he was away ahead of the game—HE WAS.

That is, he hadn't paid premiums "for nothing" for ten years or so, and figured he was quite a little to the good—BUT WAIT!

The old law of averages got busy. An automobile hit him—Hard, Too!

They put him in a nice clean hospital room at $50.00 per, and got a good-looking nurse at $45.00 per, and a highly trained surgeon—AND EVERYTHING.

After a few days of blissful unconsciousness he began to wonder where "it" would all come from. I couldn't help him—THEN.

In about 10 weeks they turned him over, all fixed up, to his creditors—HE'S STILL WITH THEM.
